

WILMINGTON JOURNAL.

Monday, March 13, 1848.

WE present our thanks to the Hon. Jas. J. McKay, for a copy of the report of the acting Secretary of the Treasury, communicating the report of the superintendent of the Coast Survey, showing the progress of that work.

NAVAL.—The U. S. sloop-of-war Plymouth, with the Hon. J. W. Davis, U. S. Commissioner, bound for China, got under way from Hampton Roads on the 8th inst.

REGENTS.—We regret exceedingly that we receive several, indeed, most of our State exchange papers late on Thursday afternoon, just about the time we are putting the Journal to press. For this reason we have to defer whatever of interest they contain just one week. We make this explanation lest our readers might think we were sometimes dilatory in giving them "domestic intelligence."

GEN. TAYLOR.—The following is said to be the very last letter from Genl Taylor. It is, like the one which we published week before last, quite a singular production. Genl Taylor is a Whig, but yet he says that if he is nominated by the Whig party he must not be expected to give any pledges. He will consent to be run by the Whigs, not, however, as a party man. Now this seems to us a queer state of things. Here is a man who avows himself a Whig—will consent to run if nominated by the Whig National Convention—and yet refuses to be considered as the candidate, so far as he is concerned, of the Whig party! Now it behooves us Democrats to ask what the meaning of all this really is. General Taylor and his friends know full well that if he were to come out and avow himself a partisan Whig, all his availability would vanish like the morning mist before the rays of the sun. Therefore Genl Taylor endeavors to present himself to the American people as no partisan; yet does he take care to say that he is a Whig. By the latter he expects to satisfy the Whigs, and get their whole strength, whilst by the former he calculates upon catching the votes of some unwary Democrats. Very nicely arranged. But we think that, so far as the Democrats are concerned, he will find himself mistaken. They are too wide awake to permit such a game to be played upon them. But here is the letter—the very last—

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 12, 1848.

My Dear Colonel—Your very kind communication, and the accompanying newspaper, have duly reached me.

In reply to the closing remarks of your letter, I have no hesitation in stating, as I have stated on former occasions, that I am a Whig, though not an ultra one, and that I have no desire to conceal this fact from any portion of the people of the United States. I deem it but candid, however, to add, that if the Whig party desire at the next Presidential election to cast their votes for me, they must do it on their own responsibility, and without any pledges from me.

Should I be elected to that office, I should deem it to be my duty and should most certainly claim the right, to look to the constitution and the high interests of our common country, and not to the principles of a party, for my rules of action.

With my sincerest thanks for your expression of friendship, and my best wishes for your success through life, I remain, very truly, your friend and obedient servant.

Z. TAYLOR.

THE LOAN OF FIVE MILLIONS.—The bids for the five million loan, says the Baltimore Clipper, of the 10th inst., were opened at Washington on Wednesday, and found to amount to $17,000,000. The loan was awarded to the highest bidder, who, for the principal amount, were, N. M. Rothschild & Sons, of London, (jointly with Corcoran & Riggs,) John S. Riddle, C. McCallister, and E. W. Clark & Co., &c. &c. The Messrs. Rothschild and Corcoran & Riggs bid for the whole loan at a premium of 1.26, but obtained only between three and four millions of dollars of the amount, taking half a million of this amount, by preference, in the six per cent stock. The total premium paid in and realized was about $65,000, which is a handsome addition to the miscellaneous receipts of this month. The sale is above the full average market price, ranging from 2 to 1.26 per cent premium.

WE notice from an advertisement in the Petersburg papers, that the Cashier's vault of the Exchange Bank of Virginia had been broken into, and $13,000 abstracted therefrom. The Bank offers a reward of one thousand dollars, besides 10 per cent on whatever portion of the money is recovered, for the apprehension of the thief.

WE regret exceedingly to have to chronicle the death of our promising young townsman, Midshipman Robert Savage, who died at Porto Rico on the 8th of February. His disease was Consumption, and, under the advice of his physician, he had gone to the West Indies. Mr. Savage was quite a young man, only 25 years old, when he died, still he had attained a most enviable distinction in his profession, and would, no doubt, have lived, have reached the highest places of honor and honor.

COUNTERTREIFERS.—We have been shown one or two counterfeit $5 bills on the Bank of Charleston, S. C., and learn that there are quite a number of them offering. We caution the community against these spurious bills, which, we learn, are well executed, and therefore well calculated to deceive the unwary. We are informed that the Bank of Charleston has no such denomination of bills out.

WHO ARE THE FRIENDS OF THE SOUTH?—We have frequently stated that the South must look to the patriotism of the Northern Democracy for the preservation of their rights. This has been denied by our Whig contemporaries. Now we call their attention to the Abolition preamble and resolutions presented by Mr. Putnam, (published in our paper of last week) a Northern Whig member, and laid upon the table by a majority of 13, on the motion of Mr. Broadhead, a Northern Democrat. We would ask our Whig friends in North Carolina to look at the vote by which this infamous resolution was laid on the table. Of every Northern Whig member of the House of Representatives voted with the Abolitionists, whilst twenty-eight Northern Democrats voted with the South—40. Now, we again ask—Who are the friends of the South?

THE SABBATH.—We notice that the Legislature of Maryland has passed an act prohibiting the sale of spirituous liquors on Sunday, and making its violation an indictable offence.

GENERAL SHIELDS.—The following is like bread thrown upon the waters. It has come to us, in a Iowa paper, after many days. It is an extract of a Washington letter, published in the Philadelphia Ledger.

"General Shields has always been considered a handsome man; but his general appearance is much improved by the campaign, and he carries his arm so gracefully in a sling, and is so unassuming, frank and agreeable, and rather than the world some two or three years later, (the age he was when he came to the country,) it would not be difficult to point to him, at some day or other, as 'President of the United States.' He says his life is only a blunder; for all the skillful physicians and surgeons in the army have proved that, according to scientific principles, he ought to have died of his former wounds, which are now entirely healed, and do not give him the slightest uneasiness."

"Mustang" in Washington.—A Washington letter says:

"The reception of Mr. Fremont, who brought the treaty from Mexico to Washington, at the Department of State, has caused a good deal of laughter at the capital. Coming from Mexico in seventeen days, he had but little time for his toilette, and on his arrival sported a blue jacket and pants, and a leg of which was strapless, while the want of suspenders displayed a fold of check linen over the waistband, a broad brimmed tarpaulin hat, with a face covered with ranchero-looking whiskers. On his landing at the wharf he listened in a coach, (though the hackman was rather shy of him,) to the residence of the Secretary of State, where he was finally refused admission by the porter in waiting. However, he forced his way in, and Mr. Buchanan was no less astonished than his servant, to find in the queer chap before him, whom he had at sight mistaken for an old salt, the reliable Mustang, and the special ambassador of Don Nicholas Trist."

The Court of Inquiry.—The Court of Inquiry, appointed to examine into the charges against Genl Pillow and Col. Duncan, and also into those made by Genl. Worth against Genl. Scott, met at Puebla on or about the 18th of February. To supply our readers with all the news of the proceedings of this important Court, we have sent a special reporter to Puebla, from whom, if nothing serious should prevent, we expect a highly interesting account of these trials. The Court is composed of Brig Gen. Cushing, who is well known to the country as a scholar and jurist; Genl. Towson, Paymaster General of the Army, a distinguished Artillery officer of the late war; and Col. Belknap, formerly of the 8th Infantry, (Worth's Regiment) and late Inspector General of Genl Taylor's Division.

TWO VESSELS WRECKED.—THEIR CREWS MURDERED.—A letter has been received at New York, from Montevideo, containing the melancholy intelligence, that two American vessels, the brig Black Hawk, (reported lost some days since,) and the schooner Osceola, both gone ashore near Cape Blanco. The writer, late a seaman on board the Osceola, states that he saw both crews murdered on the 16th ult., by the Blancans, and that he was saved only on account of his being an Old-Fellow.—the commander of the murders being an Englishman and an Old-Fellow.

Balt. Clipper, 11th inst.

A STARTLING FACT.—Gov. Briggs, at the Temperance meeting in Faneuil Hall, Boston, on Tuesday evening last, stated that the report of the Committee appointed to inquire into the alleged murder in the Commonwealth, showed that there were from 1,200 to 1,300 of that unfortunate class, and also the astounding fact, 1,100 to 1,200 of them were born of drunken parents!—Phila. Bull.

THE VERY LATEST.—We clip the following from the N. Y. Mirror. Of course it will be implicitly believed:

A Taunton paper says.—We regret to hear that J. Coles, Esq., while in the act of drawing on a pair of boots, on Saturday week, stained the lids of his eyes so much as to break a small blood vessel, which has caused the loss of sight in one eye, and much injured the other.

Immigration.—The following comparative table, showing the arrivals of emigrants, at the points designated, will be read with interest:

	1846.	1847.	Increase.
New York,	97,843	145,890	46,967
Boston,	14,079	20,745	6,666
Philadelphia,	7,236	14,763	7,526
Baltimore,	9,327	12,018	2,681
New Orleans,	22,148	40,442	18,294
	151,624	238,858	82,134

THE REJECTED.—It is a remarkable circumstance, that the mother and the daughter—Virginia the native State of Mr. Clay, and Kentucky the State of his adoption—were the first two to discard and repel him from their embrace!—Norfolk Argus.

Kentucky Politics.—We notice that Col. R. M. Johnson is generally spoken of as the Democratic candidate for Governor in Kentucky.

THE FRIENDLY BET.

Somewhere, though we forget the precise place, we lately read an anecdote of a rather strange occurrence which happened, we believe, in Calcutta. The circumstances were somewhat as follows:—A very wealthy old merchant of that city, celebrated for his hospitality and good feelings, gave a grand banquet on his birth night. Among the guests, though scarcely known to each other, were some of his especial friends, one of whom, although seventy, was much addicted to gambling. In the course of the evening, the old gentleman, either from the heat or from some other cause, was observed to fall from his chair, in violent spasms. The circumstance, of course, drew the major part of the company around the fallen host—among the most conspicuous of whom, was his gambling friend. "He'll die!" said he. "He'll die!" said the other. "He'll die!" said the third. "He'll die!" said the fourth. "He'll die!" said the fifth. "He'll die!" said the sixth. "He'll die!" said the seventh. "He'll die!" said the eighth. "He'll die!" said the ninth. "He'll die!" said the tenth. "He'll die!" said the eleventh. "He'll die!" said the twelfth. "He'll die!" said the thirteenth. "He'll die!" said the fourteenth.
